OFFICE OF PETITIONS

DECISION ON PETITION

In re Application of
CHUANG-PAN, et al.
Application No. 09/771,516
Filed: January 17, 2001
Attorney Docket No.

This is a decision on the petition under the unintentional provisions of 37 CFR 1.137(b), filed June 22, 2006, to revive the above-identified application.

The petition is DISMISSED.

The application became abandoned for failure to reply in a timely manner to the non-final Office action mailed, December 10, 2002, which set a shortened statutory period for reply of three (3) months. No extensions of time under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a) were obtained. Accordingly, the application became abandoned on March 11, 2003.

A grantable petition under 37 CFR 1.137(b) must be accompanied by: (1) the required reply, unless previously filed; (2) the petition fee as set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(m); (3) a statement that the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to 37 CFR 1.137(b) was unintentional; and (4) any terminal disclaimer (and fee as set forth in 37 CFR 1.20(d)) required by 37 CFR 1.137(d). Where there is a question as to whether either the abandonment or the delay in filing a petition under 37 CFR 1.137 was unintentional, the Director may require additional information. See MPEP 711.03(c)(II)(C) and (D). The instant petition lacks item(1) the required reply. For applicants conveyance, a copy of the non-final office action previously mailed on December 10, 2002 is enclosed with this decision.

Any request for reconsideration of this decision must be submitted within TWO (2) MONTHS from the mail date of this decision. Extensions of time under 37 CFR 1.136(a) are permitted.

The reconsideration request should include a cover letter entitled "Renewed Petition under 37 CFR 1.137(b)." This is not a final agency action within the meaning of 5 U.S.C. § 704.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. The claims are objected to because they include reference characters which are not enclosed within parentheses.

Reference characters corresponding to elements recited in the detailed description of the drawings and used in conjunction with the recitation of the same element or group of elements in the claims should be enclosed within parentheses so as to avoid confusion with other numbers or characters which may appear in the claims. See MPEP § 608.01(m).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Lines 13 and , "said terminal" and "said first terminal" lack antecedent basis since they are not consistent with the preceding terminals "a terminal" P1 and "another terminal" P2. It is suggested term such as "first" and "second" terminals is used throughout the claims for consistency when refers to terminal P1 and P2.

How can a terminal (P2) forms "a signal dividing voltage circuit" (lines 8-9)?

Art Unit: 2836

It is unclear what signals are transmitted by the other terminal (P2) to compare circuit (lines 10-11). Line 23, "the subsequent circuit" lacks antecedent basis.

Correction/clarification required.

4. The following rejections are made based on the examiner's best interpretation of the claims in light of the 35 USC 112 rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Tsai (US 6,135,427) in view of Unoguchi et al. (US 4,449,188) or Kirchner et al. (US 4,146,775).

Tsai discloses (Figs. 10-13) a protective circuit for a humidifier having an DC input 413, a voltage stabilizer 414, a drive circuit 43 for driving an oscillator 434, a first terminal connected to a voltage divider circuit R1-R2, a second terminal (connecting to the water detecting sensor 10) for turning off the drive circuit when the water level is below a certain level (col. 4, ll. 51-69).

Tsai does not disclose an amplifier accepting signals from the first and second terminal. Kirchner discloses (Fig. 3) a protective circuit for a humidifier having a first terminal connected to a voltage divider circuit 22-23, a second terminal 74 connecting to the input terminals of amplifier 27 to control the drive circuit 31. Unoguchi also discloses an amplifier having inputs J1 and J2 for comparing a humidity level 3 and a voltage from a divider circuit R2-R3 for controlling the output. Since utilizing amplifier to compare the values of two signals are well known in the art and as disclosed by Kirchner and Unoguchi as shown above; it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to utilize a comparator circuit for controlling the drive circuit of Tsia depending the output signal of the water detector means since Tsia discloses that the water detector means could various types of detector devices.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Cox (US 5,014,908), Mitsui et al. (US 3,989,042) and Huang (US 4,820,453) disclose various protection circuits for shutting down the drive circuit when the water level is low in a humidifier.

Any inquiry of a general nature or relating to the status of this application or proceeding should be directed to the receptionist whose telephone number is (703) 308-0658.
